cattle, belonged to Gen. Weston, Fryeburg, girl 7 ft. 6 in., red Durhams, and weigh 3000 pounds; pair white faces, 7
ft. 8 in., weight 4100 pounds, also to the same party, a pair of dark red cattle, 6
ft. 10 in.
John Atwood, Fryeburg, owned a pair
8 ft. 4 in., round weight 4000 pounds; pair of grade Holsteins belonging to the town of Fryeburg, measuring 7 ft.
Four pairs of four-year-olds, belonging to George Weston; four pairs of two-year-olds, all belonging to Mr. Weston, making 12 pairs of nice steers and oxen
belonging to him.

Steer Teams.
Ezra Davis, Denmark, had two pairs of grade Hereford steers. Charles R. Bean, East Hiram, had two pairs grade Devon steers.
A pair of oxen belonged to Sim Eaton, Brownfield, and next to these was a pair of steers belonging to Stillman Durgin, Brownfield, also the next pair of draft oxen, grade Devons.

A pair of white faces about 6 feet 6 inches in the line belong to James Bean, Brownfield. The next pair grade Devons belonged to John Marston, Brownfield;
the next three pair belonged to Phil
Durgin, same town. John Hodgdon, Brownfield, had a pair of speckled fellows; next were Leighton Spring's, same town. J. W. Perkins, Brownfield, had a pair of 6 feet 10 inch cattle and a heavy
pair, also the next pair of matched oxen.
There were some 12 head of speckled fellows; next were Leighton Spring's, same
town. J. W. Perkins, Brownfield, had a pair of 6 feet 10 inch cattle and a heavy
pair, also the next pair of matched oxen.
This was a nice lot of cattle.

Gus Ingalls of Denmark had a pair of white faces; next Ernest Ingalls, same town, had a pair of pullers, over 7 feet
and also a pair under 6 feet and a half.
Harris Small had next, pair of pulling oxen under 6 feet 6 in. D. Fessenden, a pair of brocked faces. Next were Asa Smith's matched oxen. Stephen Rowe, Denmark, had a pair of handsome, dark
Colby, of the same town had a fine pair of matched oxen.

White Mountain Farm Exhibit.
J. I. Pendexter, Intervale, N. H., occupied special quarters for his high bred Jerseys, Essex, Berkshire and Chester swine, and Oxford and Southdown sheep. There were some 12 head of high bred Jerseys, led by the 3-year-old bull, Chief Patmore, A. J. C. C., No 25012. His sire was Minnie's Duke of Darlington, dam the great Pet Clover,
No. 9344 with official birth test of 18 pounds in 7 days. Another bull with the herd was Milford's Pride of Rabbit's Pogis, an inbred St. Lambert. His dam has a butter test of 20 pounds in 7 days.
This bull is 2 years old. The fine cows with this herd are all young and all St.
Lambert and Darlington blood. A 4-year old has made 14 pounds of butter in a week.

The swine included three prominent breeds. A pair of Essex, a breed but little known in this State, attracted attention from the spectators in color to the Berkshires. They are black and esteemed for their fineness of bone, large hams and aptitude to fatten. A fine lot of Berkshires of the Hood Farm strain were shown, among them a 4-months old boar, out of Hood's best improved sow,
"Sweetie." A large lot of Ohio Improved Chesters filled the next pens. The boar leading this lot of Chesters has been a first prize winner over all competitors at all the prominent fairs.

Here were 15 Oxford Down sheep led by a Canada bred ewe weighing 300 lbs.
The Southdowns numbered 9 head led by a fine large buck, tipping the scales at 225 pounds.
The Mountain View exhibit included
a fine lot of fowls, among them Dominique, fowls, also chickens, Polish fowls,
brown and white, Leghorns, Wyandottes, barred and white Plymouth Rock fowls
and chickens, bronze turkeys, Rouen ducks, Brahma, Minorca, Seabright and Black bantam fowls and chickens.

At the Drag.
The first class to pull was the 2 and 3-year-olds. The drag was set with some 6000 pounds of granite upon it. Ernest Ingalls of Denmark hitched on a pair of stubbed 3-year-olds, 6 feet 6 in. in the line, red cattle, a pair of good pullers, but the load was too heavy for the cattle to move direct, and too heavy to show the best display of fair pulling. The steers zig-zagged the load 19 feet 7 inches.
Edwin Pingree, Denmark, next hitched
on a pair of three-year-old grade Devons.
They are a handsome pair, well matched and high strung. They made some good pulls at first but the inordinately heavy load discouraged the steers. They started the drag 7 feet.

In the next class, 6 feet and a half and under, Ernest H. Ingalls, Denmark, brought up a pair of red Durhams, 6 feet
6 inches the pair. Time called at 7 feet
2 inches.
Reuben Smith, same town, hitched on a pair of matched 4-year-olds. They started the load 2 feet 2 inches.

Harry Small of Denmark hitched on a pair of pullers about 6 feet 5 in. They did some good square lifting and moved the load dead ahead; in all 14 feet 5 inches.
Stephen Rowe of Denmark was the first man to pull in the under 7 feet class. His cattle filled the line at 6 feet 10 in. Stephen began very quiet, but he found his voice before he got through.
The oxen are good square pullers and did some honest work. Distance, 25 ft.
4 inches.

A pair of white faces owned by Wesley Perkins of Brownfield, filling the line about 6 feet 11 in. Like most of the others they see-sawed the load, very little direct movement ahead—distance, 23 feet
10 inches.
In the heavy class, seven feet and over Carleton Walker of Fryeburg, hitched on his pair of big Durhams. They waded off with the load over to the grand stand and part way back—so far no measurement was made.

Simeon Eaton next backed up a much smaller pair. The crowd failed to see where the fairness came in this way of pulling. They worked the drag 19 feet
6 inches.
For the sweepstake pullers about 1500 pounds more granite was added to the drag, which was more than most of the oxen could haul before.

Meserve was the first to hitch on his runaways with the drag before, but the load now was a different affair. They moved the drag 11 feet 11 inches.
John Colby of Denmark was a new man. His cattle were hardly as large as the last pair that pulled. They encountered the same difficulty as the others—
the load was too heavy to make headway with. Distance, 10 feet 3 inches.

Ingalls was the next to hitch to the big load. He performed the usual tactics and worked the load 29 feet 8 inches.
George Weston brought in a new pair which will probably fill the line at 7 feet and a half or more. Distance, 15 feet 5 inches.
Stephen Rowe, next and last, took back his Devons. There was fire in their eyes and they exerted their muscles at a fofegone failure at the start,

because the load was too heavy for cattle of their inches. They were lifters from the word go. "They have the best courage of any cattle that's been here," said one, and that was so. Distance, 9
ft. 3 inches. This ended the pulling.
Sheep and Swine.

H. D. Hackett, East Fryeburg, had a large white sow with nine pigs. They were beauties and the farmers bargained them in at $2 a head and made good trades. I. A. Andrews had two grade Yorkshire pigs. Reuben Smith, Denmark, had Chester sow with pigs and two nice shots. B. F. Buzzell of Fryeburg had two handsome shots.
C. E. Smith, Denmark, brought in a flock of grade Southdown sheep and lambs with buck.

Poultry.
A large number of coops were shown by P. S. Davis of Conway, N. H., including Buff Cochins fowls and chick, both varieties of Plymouth Rock, Minorcas, Brown Leghorns and game fowl. Joey Carter, Fryeburg, had a coop of Sea-brights; Frank Barker, Lehighs; L. A.
Andrews, Stow, had coops of ducks;
Harold McKee, Fryeburg, two pairs
White Wyandotte chicks, Light Brahma fowls and chicks, also White Wyandotte fowls.

Fruit.
One of the largest exhibitors of fruit was A. F. Sanborn of East Fryeburg, the largest fruit grower in West Oxford. He had some 50 plates of apples, and most of them very fine specimens, a number of varieties of pears and lots of grapes.
Mr. Andrews of North Chatham, N. H., brought in 16 plates of apples and a number of pears; Mr. McAllister of Lovell had 12 plates of apples, several of pears and three plates of nice looking grapes; Mr. Barker of Fryeburg also had 8 plates of apples. William H. Farlington, North Fryeburg, had nice looking cranberries, also I. A. Andrews of Stow and Mrs. H. F. Lord, North Denmark.

Farm and Garden Products.
J. W. Barker of Fryeburg brought in a lot of fine looking vegetables and Frank Barker trace of 12-rowed corn; seed oats by H. B. Eastman; pop corn by J. H. Hartford, Hiram and Fred H. Meserve; Savoy potatoes by A. G. Walker, Lovell.

Z. McAllister, Lovell, had a lot of vegetables. W. H. Wakefield, Brownfield, had a fine collection of garden vegetables, also I. A. Brown, Stow; Seth W.
Fife & Son of Fryeburg made a fine exhibitor of farm and garden seeds.

G. M. Hackett, Fryeburg, a nice lot of vegetables, potatoes, etc. J. E. Pray, D.
D. Carlton of Fryeburg and T. J. Durgin, Brownfield, all had fine looking vegetables.

Ladies' Department.
Wednesday forenoon the ladies filled
their department and made a fine display of needlework and the rug and quilt in variety. The dairy specimens were good looking and the cooking temptingly nice to the eye.

The attendance at the fair, Thursday,
was far in advance of the usual crowd on the last day. The unfinished 2.25 race was concluded in the afternoon,
first money going to Janet, Tommy L., second; Bennie, third; H. P., fourth.
In the free-for-all race the record of the track was broken in some really fine trotting. Summary:

Oh, How They Hurt.
Neuralgic pains are often so acute,
that the poor sufferer becomes, almost,
frenzied with the intensity of the pain.
Salvation Oil will instantly relieve and effectually cure neuralgia, so there is no reason why a moment's pain
should be endured. Mr. Jacob Klein, 1036 Main St., Evansville, Ind., writes:
"My wife suffered from neuralgia for seven years and since she used Salvation Oil, she has not had a spell. I think it is the best liniment I have ever tried, and I would not be without a bottle of it in the house. I had the rheumatism for five years and had tried a great many liniments, and must say that Salvation Oil did me more good than any other remedy." Salvation
Oil is sold everywhere for 25 cents.

THE TURN OF LIFE

Is the most important period in a woman's existence. Owing to modern methods of living, not one woman in a thousand escapes without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms.

Those dreadful hot flashes, sending the blood surging to the heart until it seems ready to burst, and the faint feeling that follows, sometimes with chills, as if the heart were going to stop for good, are symptoms of a dangerous nervous trouble. These hot flashes are just so many calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance. The cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life.

The Vegetable Compound is an invigorating strength-giving female organism. It builds up the weakened nervous system and enables a woman to pass that grand change triumphantly.

It does not seem necessary for us to prove the honesty of our statements, but it is a pleasure to publish such grateful words as the following:

"I have been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time during the change of life and it has been a saviour of life unto me. I can cheerfully recommend your medicine to all women, and I know it will give permanent relief. I would be glad to relate my experience to any sufferer."—Mrs. DELIA WATSON, 524 West 5th St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Foot Ball at Bridgton.

The Norway eleven played their first game with Bridgton Academy, Saturday, October 2d. The day was simply a poem of autumnal beauty, and old Sol beamed most cheerfully upon the happy throng. It was a joy and unadulterated bliss. The Bridgton and Norway High School girls formed a dainty ring about the scene of carnage.

The first half opened with Norway's kick-off. With skill and ease that would have caused Mlle. de Monto to turn gray with envy, Prin. Wiley sent the sphere far down the field.

Then there was a rush that caused the very hopper-grasses to shiver with pain. A Bridgton man fell on the ball with a thud that was distinctly heard even into the folds of Snow's Falls.

Then the lines formed up and with whang-bang-plunk the game was on.

Right end and left end plays followed in quick succession. The Bridgton boys crossed the criss-cross to a charm. The High School lads had had no second eleven to line up against and therefore were deceived most cruelly by that same blamed old criss-cross.

The Bridgtons worked slowly up the field and secured their first touch down. Another kick off. Another line up. The Bridgtons try to go through the center and are snubbed up real quick. This was a pleasant surprise to the Norway delegation. We had expected to find the High School weak in the center, seeing that the opposing team was so much heavier. But it wasn't! And after twenty-one men had disentangled their various limbs and had picked out what each thought was his own, the twenty-second man took the rest and resolved the same into young Jewett. He's a dandy.

A criss-cross play now closed the first half with another touch down. Falling to kick the goal the score stood 10 to 0.

The second half opened with a swift kick-off by the Bridgtons. It was a low, snappy, nasty one to stop. It curved around Jewett's head only to be blocked by Smart. With the ball tucked up under his woe-coat Smart hitched up his pants and made a strike for full timber. He made a beautiful gain, and your correspondent yelled himself into an ulcerated sore throat chanting the praises of the above said Smart.

The Norway boys toiled half way through the territory of the enemy and the failing to fulfill the requisite conditions the ball passed over to the Bridgtons.

This half was contended more stubbornly than the first. If any contractors ever got corraled again just send up the High School eleven.

Camp Fire at Oxford.

Twenty-two members of Harry Rust Post and Relief Corps were transported to the Oxford fair, with John Hazleton as driver. About as many more went from Norway in teams, so that Norway was well represented at the fair.

Representatives from Bridgton, Harrison, North Waterford, East Paris, and South Paris were present and perhaps some others.

The day was very fine and was enjoyed by all from beginning to end. The public speakers invited did not put in an appearance but that did not prevent a good entertainment, such as the Oxford people know just how to do. There was a large gathering and the after dinner exercises consisted of singing by a select choir of Oxford artists, and speaking by members of the different Posts represented, and a very interesting time relating war stories and reminiscences during and since the war, and no doubt was as satisfactory as though the time had been spent at speakers. Every body seemed satisfied and nothing to find fault with.

The Norway Post and Corps decided to have a camp fire here on Thursday of next week and invited all present at Oxford to come.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When very noticeable it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects the ability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention OXFORD COUNTY ADVERTISER and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

Four Large Factories.
One each in New York, Brooklyn, Newark, N. J., and Chicago, are owned by F. W. Devoe & Co., who make the paint that covers 1/2 better and wears 1/2 longer, and for which F. P. Stone is agent. Being the largest paint manufacturers in America, Messrs. Devoe & Co. undoubtedly have many advantages over all other concerns.

North Waterford Fair.

The typical town fair of Western Maine—large attendance and a good time generally.

The village of North Waterford is admirably adapted for holding a town fair. It is high and dry, large enough to take care of the crowd, and has a roomy common in the center. The annual gathering which each succeeding fall sees there is typical of rural Maine. It is the great holiday for the farmer folk for seven or eight or a dozen miles around. This year the site smiled upon it, for the crowds gathered till the people filled the common and were found in large groups about the outskirts of the village in every direction. The fair is spread out from one end of the place to the other, which is a very good thing, as the throng of spectators does not make a jam as would otherwise vex the man in a hurry. The church sheds and sides of the streets near the church held the live stock exhibit; on the common was a little array of fairs and vendors, and the upper story of the schoolhouse sheltered the display of crops and household manufactures. There were exhibits from citizens of Waterford, Lovell, Stonham, Albany and Norway. We first looked over the:

Live Stock.

M. F. Lord had a yoke of red and white steer calves.

Justin E. McIntire & Sons, a yoke of brockle-faced 5-year-olds that fill the line at 7 feet.

Merritt Savin, yoke of large 6-year-old oxen, the near one red and his mate brindle.

J. F. Lord's 5-year-olds measure 7 ft., 3 inches. They are compact, square-shouldered and square-hipped, have drooping horns and black coats.

Fred L. Ray, yoke of oddly marked yearlings, of mixed Hereford and Holstein blood; yoke 2-year-old Holsteins, grithing 6 ft., and a yoke of 3-year-old Holsteins 8 inches larger. Also a clean white sow with eight pigs nearly large enough to wean.

Thomas Jordan, sturdy Holstein bull, the same that was awarded first money over a large number of competitors at the county fair.

E. J. Hobbs, large 4-year-old Holstein bull, the same that was awarded first money over a large number of competitors at the county fair.

J. Saunders & Son, yearling Durham bull; pair red oxen; pen containing 6 calves of different breeds and from four weeks to 6 months old.

H. B. McKenney, pair 2-year-old steers; bay mare with colt.

Dr. G. W. Fernald of Bethel was there with his black trotter, Owissa.

E. B. Hersey, Southdown ewe and lamb. Mr. Hersey raises some 250 chickens, this year. He believes in the barred Plymouth Rock as a profitable breed to handle. He exhibited 6 roosters and 6 pullets of this year's chicks, and the birds show for themselves that they have had good care.

Machines for Farm and Household.

J. D. Horr showed the new model self-locking O. K. swivel plow, made by F. C. Merrill of South Paris. This plow will turn level land as well as any, and is the easiest to manipulate of any that we ever saw. The O. K. spring-tooth harrow, the special feature of which is large clearing spaces; Worcester chain-gear mower; Worcester horse-rake and White sewing machine were also shown by Mr. Horr.

But the people are the fair, and they were in greatest numbers

On the Common

Where peddlers shouted the merits of their wares and the hoarse cry of the fair resounded through the air, "Get 'em up again, boys," and "Who'll try 'em next?" bawled at once from a score of throats may possibly bewilder some body.

HOME AND SOCIETY

Greater Burdens than Delicate Women Can Bear Without Help.

Women may find Strength and Inspiration in Dr. Greene's Nervura for the Nerves and Blood.

What greater strain could there be upon women's nerves than the never-ending cares of a household? None, unless it might be the exertions of society.

Three meals a day, seven days a week, and all different. Soft words and sweet smiles when husbands are cross and children crying. Wise talk on weighty subjects and witticisms on airy nothings. These things and much more are expected of women. It is strange that they are not always equal to the world's expectations?

DR. GREENE'S NERVURA
For the Nerves and Blood

Overworked women may find strength and buoyancy in Dr. Greene's Nervura. It is not a stimulant affording only temporary relief and followed by corresponding depression, but a permanent renewer of life and vigor. Exhaustion, despondency, irritability, nervous headaches and dyspepsia, and all ailments arising from nervous derangements and impure and weak blood are quickly relieved by this standard remedy, which may be obtained from any first-class druggist.

If you do not fully understand your case, and feel the need of expert medical advice, Dr. Greene invites you to call upon or write to him at Temple Place, Boston, Mass. No charge is made for answers to such inquiries.

Tintype gallery and candy stand were the queer combination run by W. W. Hollis of Lynn.

The shooting gallery and base ball range managers were W. G. McKenney, Lynn; Libby Allen & Richardson, Biddeford; O. J. Williams, Waterford; Eugene Doyle of North Turner Bridge, who was also the funny Irishman with a striking machine. Another striking machine was owned and operated and presided over by W. B. Moro of Waterville, who had the dirtiest face on the grounds.

Twitcheil Bros. of Oxford had a big trade in fruits and nuts. They couldn't supply the demand, and it is rare that they get left. But the people wanted good fruit, and the Twitcheil's didn't have the other kind.

Then there were others, with more or less elaborate lines of confectionery, soft drinks, pies and cakes, pop corn, etc.

A. J. Newers of Norway was a hand with a large stock of his bottled soda waters, hot frankforters, confectionery, cigars and fruits. He had several helpers and did a rushing business. The others were W. Grant, Bethel; George Sanborn, Bridgton; W. A. Richardson, Bridgton; Wilber McAllister, Stonham; J. A. Wheeler, Bridgton; H. E. Abbott, Norway; E. W. Cordwell, Albany; Allie Cummings, Albany; F. L. Fogg, Harrison; J. H. H. Waterford; Chas. C. Flanders, Stonham.

A great lot of shoes, underwear, towels, miscellaneous articles was the stock in trade of G. W. Willey of Norway. A tin pepper named Deering also got a slice of the business.

"Old Dr. Drew" of Portland, electro-magnetic and botanic physician, discoursed on the merits of his electric appliances for all manner of ailments.

George P. Tucker of South Paris with phonograph and a Mr. Walker from Bridgton with graphophone were the musicians of the occasion.

W. T. Merrow of Lewiston took lots of pictures at his tintype gallery.

Friday's happenings.

This year for the first time the fair was held for more than one day. Friday, Oct. 1, was the first. Nearly a thousand people assembled, and that's quite a throng in the road.

J. F. Lewis had stabled and hitched in his yard some two hundred horses. He had a check system and it worked first-rate. Our team was checked No. 105. Many horses were put up at other places.

In the hotel, Mr. Lewis served dinner and supper and a good crowd.

A large proportion of the visitors to the place got their meals at the Congressional vestry, where a baked bean dinner was served for a quarter.

The oxen pulled. A load of stone weighing 10 tons was piled on the drag, and the course was along the road in deep sand. Justin E. McIntire's cattle got the drag load along 27 ft. 9 in. Merritt Sawin's pulled it 36 ft. 6 in. J. F. Lord's hauled it 25 ft. 4 1/2 in.

At an early hour, the merry makers began to dance in Lewis Hall. All the afternoon the music, and the whirl of dancing feet rose above the hum of conversation there, and the festivities were continued till far into the night.

At 10 o'clock, the nightingale M. F. Knight was laid director, and Bennett's Continued on seventh page.

The Great K&A-Train Robbery.

Copyright, 1898, by L. B. Lippincott Company.

The three conspirators jumped to their feet and looked for the window. Even the sheriff turned to look. As he did so, I gave him a shove toward the three, and sent them all sprawling on the floor in a pretty badly mixed up condition. I made a dash for the door, and as I went through it I grabbed the key and locked them in. As I turned to do so I saw the lot struggling up from the floor, and knowing that it wouldn't take them many seconds to find their way out through the window, I didn't wait much time in watching them.

Capt. Baldwin and the judge had left their horses just outside the saloon, and the three were still patiently standing with their hands behind their backs as only western horses will stand. I didn't take me long to have those bulls back in place, and as I tossed each over the peak of the Mexican saddle I gave two of the ponies slaps which sent them off at a lops across the railroad tracks. I swung myself into the saddle of the third and flicked him with the ends of the bridle in a way which made him understand that I meant business.

Baldwin's cowboys had most of them gathered to the various saloons of the place, but two of them were standing in the doorway of a store. I acted so quickly that they didn't seem to notice me. I was about to yell, and, finding that they might shoot—for the cowboys were to use his gun—I turned and rode up the street, just in time to see Capt. Baldwin through the window, with Baldwin's head in view behind him.

When I had ridden 100 feet I realized that I had done up horse under me, and, wondering that he had covered over his head, I was not surprised that there wasn't very much to go left in him. I turned Baldwin's cowboys could get away in plenty without wasting my minutes and that then they would shoot me in very short order. I didn't have no use in my attempt to run. I was running. And, as I ran, I saw my only hope was to beat them to the finish.

As I ran, like all western railroad men, I was a long line of buildings running parallel with the railway tracks. The houses, therefore, brought me close to the town, and I wheeled around and rode down behind the railroad buildings. In turning I looked back and saw half a dozen mounted men in pursuit, but I lost sight of them at the next moment. As soon as I reached the street leading back to the railroad I turned again and rode toward it, not daring to get back, for I was in the station and put the letters in the railroad agent's safe.

When I reached the main street, I saw that my hope was futile, for I noticed a lot of cowboys were coming in all directions toward me, very thoroughly looking me off in that direction. To escape them I headed up the street away from the station, with the pack in close pursuit. They yelled at me to hold up, and I expected every moment to hear the crack of revolvers, for the poorest shot among them would have found no difficulty in dropping my horse at that distance if they had wanted to stop me. I had a very nice sensation to keep my eyes peeled up in expectation of hearing the shooting begin and to know that my moment may be your last. I don't suppose I was on the rugged edge more than 80 seconds, but they were enough to prove to me that to keep one's eyes turned to an enemy as one runs away is a deal more pluck than to stand up and face his gun. Fortunately for me, my pursuers felt so sure of my capture that not one of them drew a bead on me.

The moment I saw that there was no chance I put my hand in my breast pocket and took out the letters, intending to throw them into the crowd.

Underneath it, as far as I could throw them. It was a desperate place in which to hide them, but the game was a desperate one at best, and the very boldness of the idea might be its best chance of success.

I was now heading for the station over the ties and was surprised to see Fred Cullen with Lord Rallos on the tracks up by the special, for my mind had been so busy in the last hour that I had forgotten that Fred was due. The moment I saw him I rode toward him, pressing my pony for all he was worth. My hope was that I might get time to give Fred the tip as to where the letters were, but before I was within speaking distance Baldwin came running out from behind the station, and, seeing me, turned, called back and gesticulated, evidently to summon some cowboys to head me off. Afraid to shout anything which should convey the slightest clew as to the whereabouts of the letters, as the next best thing I pulled a couple of old section reports from my pocket, intending to ride up and run into my car, for I knew that the papers in my hand would be taken to be the wanted letters and that if I could only get inside the car even for a moment the suspicion would be that I had been able to hide them. Unfortunately the plan was no sooner thought of than I heard the whistle of a train, and before I could guard myself the noise settled over my head. I threw the papers toward Fred and Lord Rallos, shouting, "Hide them!" Fred was quick as a flash, and, grabbing them off the ground, sprang up the steps of my car and ran inside, just escaping a bullet from my pursuers. I tried to pull up my pony, for I did not want to be jerked off, but I was too late, and the next moment I was lying on the ground in a pretty well shaken and jarred condition, surrounded by a lot of men.

orchestra played the tunes. A room of twice the size would not have accommodated all who wished to take part in those festivities.

Second Day.

Saturday, the second and last day, there was an attendance greatly in excess of Thursday's, it being estimated by good judges as high as 3,500 people. Everybody seemed satisfied, too.

East Waterford Brass Band furnished music, playing on the common, during a good part of the day.

Two classes of horses pulled, the dividing line being 2,500 lbs. weight in pairs.

The three heavy-weights pulled first. Rufus Morrill of Norway, 1 pair chestnuts weighing 2,300, pulled the load 207 ft. 9 in., and got first money. Rufus Morrill, 1 pair roans weighing 2,550, pulling the load 167 ft. 8 in., got second money. Fred Knightly of Waterford, one pair bay horses weighing 2,950; owing to difference in the weight of Knightly's and Morrill's horses, they agreed to put 540 lbs. more load on the Knightly horses and pull on equal terms with the Morrill horses. The Knightly horses pulling the load 147 ft. 6 in., got third money.

There were four entries in the other class. Andrew Jackson of Norway had a pair of gray horses weighing 2,300 and pulled the load 214 feet and got first money. Guy Curtis of Norway, one pair of gray horses weighing 2,350, pulled the load 126 ft. and got second money. Eugene Millett of Norway, one pair of gray horses weighing 2,300, pulled the load 124 ft. 8 in., and got third money. Will Mason of Norway had a very nice pair of gray colts weighing 2,200, pulled the load 112 ft. 5 in. This was a very nice pair of colts and if nothing happens to them will be amongst the winners at next year's fair.

It was remarked by a number of men who had attended the fairs, this fall, that it was the best pulling they had seen this fall at any of the fairs.

There was a lively game of base ball between the Waterford and Norway teams. The Waterford won by a score of 18 to 8.

There was dancing in Lewis' Hall again in the afternoon and evening, and the pleasure seekers kept up their happy time till nearly midnight.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alternative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Noyes Drug Store, Norway, and Shurtleiff's Pharmacy, South Paris.

Of the Town of Sumner Is Gathered by the Writer of Capt. Lewis Bisbee.

Having for a long time been possessed of a desire to meet Capt. Lewis Bisbee in one of his reminiscence moods (and I opine it would be hard to find him in other) and being somewhat spurred by Ex-Gov. Perham's suggestion that it be done, that the old gentleman's store of local happenings might not be lost, on Tuesday morning, Sept. 28, there being every appearance of "a good day and a good track," I got on board of the grandsons, Lewis B. Spaulding's team and was soon alighted at the Bisbee homestead. Mrs. Bisbee being all dressed for a visit rode away with her grandson. I was entertained by the Captain and his daughter, Mrs. Harlow.

Mrs. Harlow brought out several heirlooms, which were overlooked at the anniversary exercises of Sept. 4. Among these were pipe tones very ingeniously constructed and the finish showing rare mechanical skill. The tones were once the property of Mrs. Bisbee's grandfather.

Mrs. Bisbee's first school book, a small diminutive scrap with verse and an entitled "The Child's Assistant in the Art of Reading," by Samuel Temple, A. M., printed by Lincoln & Edmunds, Boston.

Mrs. Bisbee's wedding dress of white cambric of her mother's, woven in tucks and varied ornament of needle work.

A Maine Register for 1820, from which I may quote at some future time.

Turning my attention to the Captain, I elicited some ancient data of men and things, speeded after the manner of the old gentleman's favorite prescription, which to be appreciated must be taken from the fountain.

The road leading by the Bisbee homestead was once the spotted line or sable trail of Benjamin Spaulding, the first settler of Backfield, Tennacook was another road, over which the first barrel of rum was taken from Backfield to Rumford for a Fourth of July enthusiasm.

Barnabas Jackson and wife were the first couple that lodged in Sumner, moving to Paris in 1804. Noah Bosworth was the first settler that remained here.

Chas. Ford, Jr., first male and Rebecca Robinson first female children born. Wm. Bosworth would have been first had it not been for the meager facilities for attendance. Mrs. Bosworth went to Turner and returned on her back when the child was two weeks old.

Rev. Thomas Macomber, Baptist, and Samuel Sewall, Congregationalist, were the first ministers. There arose a controversy over the land grant to the minister, and Parson Macomber, if he could be settled, would permit the land to be sold and converted into a fund, and the "Baptists and sinners" being in a majority carried the day, hence the interest on the fund goes to the several religious societies.

The first church was built on Sumner Hill, and at the raising a man had a stand and sold rum and gingerbread.

From the residence of Albion P. Bonney to that of Ezekiel Stetson the names of the families were settled by Revolutionary soldiers. Their names follow: James Bonney, Charles Bisbee, Daniel Oldham, Lemuel Keen, Charles Ford, Sylvanus Stephens, Isaac Bonney, John Bonney, William Tucker, Elisha Bisbee, Noah Bosworth, Joseph Bonney, Meshach Keen, James Keen, Isaiah Cushman, Ezekiel Stetson, Capt. Wm. Hayford. And these were the grandfathers and great-grandfathers of the grandfathers of to-day.

Isaac Bonney and William Tucker served also in the war of 1812, at Swan-town and Burlington. Tucker died in the service, and Isaac Bonney returned and his remains rest in the cemetery very near the Bisbee homestead, along with the dust of two hundred and thirteen others, with no stone to mark the spot where lies the hero of two wars.

Johnnie Bisbee as he was called, an uncle of Capt. Lewis, was rather of an eccentric turn, a great hunter and an expert in the line of furs. It is said of him that on account of dress he was never taken for a dude, on the contrary it would indicate his times and a slim purse, and this sometimes worked in his favor. Marketing in Portland was the rule in those days, some with produce, and in the caravan Uncle Johnnie was along with his furs. Calling at a store on the way, Johnnie showed his furs to a buyer. A low price was offered, Johnnie demurred. "Why," says the man, "furs are low. I will take that for mine." "I will take them and so," ("and so" was his manner of closing a sentence) Submitting the action to the word he pulled out his heart case and a slim takes the fur. At another time being in Portland, he prevailed on the buyer of his produce to pay him money enough to pay his taxes, "and so." When settlement came, the merchant was staggered and would not have taken such a garb contained a man with such a tax. Calling the collector "and so," who was along, it was readily confirmed. He was a great bear hunter and, it is said, at one time he mounted a bear and holding to his ears rode to cleared land. As I was not along, I will not vouch for the last.

The first person to die was a man by the name of Bray, who lived where Ariel Horton now lives.

First marriage, Increase Robinson to Miss Parlin. The bans were posted, on Seth Allen's pig sty in accordance with a motion made at town meeting by this same Robinson, the motion being carried that this should be the place of posting. It is said of Increase that he was of a stern, puritanical turn. (Ovide me not, for my maternal ancestors bore the name of Robinson.) This man Robinson being a deacon, doubtless felt it incumbent upon him to administer rebuke to the ungodly. On meeting a man on one occasion who had absented himself from church the stipulated four months, he admonished him of the penalty and if he did not put in an appearance he would be fined. The other replies, "If I pay a fine for non-attendance, I shall pay another for giving you a d— licking." This man who was a Christian was Stephen, at one time working where the hired man was not allowed cheese, being of an independent turn, he cut to his liking. Finding a paper on which was written, "Stephen, Stephen, cut your cheese even," turning over the same he wrote, "Even or odd I'll have a piece by G—." But Stephen later became a deacon and doubtless made amends.

To show something of the memory of the man, Capt. Bisbee, in his 90th year, I will give his quotation from Jonathan Edwards:

Have faith the same in endless shame, For all the human race. For hell is crammed with infants damned. Without a day of grace. GILBERT TILTON.

P. S. I here add another stanza: There is never an ending Hell, And never dying over the same lie. Where children must with demons dwell In never ending chains. 40-44

Prayers for Munyon.

A Leading New England Clergyman Invokes Divine Blessing Upon Professor Munyon's Humane Work.

People like ministers of the Gospel who live for their fellow-men, are most ardent in their approval of anything that is of material benefit to the human race. Among the strongest endorsers of Professor Munyon's Remedies are leading clergymen of all denominations. Rev. M. E. Andrews of Westfield, Mass., writes: "I wish to add my testimony in favor of Munyon's Remedies. I have used the Cold Cure, Dyspepsia Cure, Nerve Cure, Headache Cure, in my family with perfect satisfaction. These remedies are worth their weight in gold. In my family they have cured the worst cases of cold in one day, and dyspepsia of seven years' standing was cured with three vials of the Dyspepsia Cure. I have had very severe headaches, which were driven away in half an hour by the Headache Cure. My wife suffered greatly from sleeplessness, and one vial of Nerve Cure gave her perfect relief. I sincerely trust God's blessing upon the proprietors of the valuable remedies."

Munyon has a separate specific for each disease. For sale by druggists, mostly 25 cents a bottle. If in doubt, write to Prof. Munyon at Philadelphia, Pa., and get medical advice free.

ing to tear them into 100 pieces. But as I did so I realized that to destroy United States mail not merely entailed criminal liability, but was off color morally. I followed, balancing the outwitting of Camp against state prison, the doing my best for Madge against the wrong of it. I think I'm as honest a fellow as the average, but I have to confess that I couldn't decide to do right till I thought that Madge wouldn't want me to be dishonest, even for her.

I turned across the railroad track and cut in behind some freight cars that were standing on a siding. This put me out of view of my pursuers for a moment, and in that instant I stood up in my stirrups, lifted the broad leather flap of the saddle and tucked the letters up in one-side bottles only. It didn't allow anyone to sell me on the plea or promise that it "will" answer every prayer that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.
